Period for Reply -- The MAILING DATE of this communication appears on the cover sheet with the correspondence address --

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

- 1) ☒ Responsive to communication(s) filed on 13 March 2006.
- 2a) ☐ This action is FINAL. 2b) ☒ This action is non-final.
- 3) ☐ Since this application is in condition for allowance except for formal matters, prosecution as to the merits is closed in accordance with the practice under Ex parte Quayle, 1935 C.D. 11, 453 O.G. 213.

DETAILED ACTION

The examiner has considered the Information Disclosure Statement submitted by the applicant on 03/29/2006.

Claim Objections

1. Claims 4-7 are objected to under 37 CFR 1.75(c) as being in improper form because a multiple dependent claim 7 for instance depends from another multiple dependent claim 6. Each of the multiple dependent claims depending on another multiple dependent claim. See MPEP § 608.01(n). Accordingly, the claims 4-7 have not been further treated on the merits.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 1-3 and 8-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hiroshi JP 10-211359.

Regarding claims 1, 8 and 9, Hiroshi teaches a video game play-by-play commentary system having the following limitations:

A video game program for causing a computer to implement a video game which displays a character on a monitor, and in which the operation of the character can be controlled, the video game program comprising:

a terminology storing function for storing running commentary terminology used while the video game is in progress (para 0005);

a first running commentary function for performing play-by-play or commentary relating to the video game using the running commentary terminology (para 0071);

a running commentary interrupting function for interrupting the first running commentary function when specific events have occurred while the video game is in progress (para 0029-0032);

a second running commentary function for performing play-by-play or commentary relating to the specific events when the running commentary interrupting function has been executed (para 0029-0032);

a running commentary returning function for causing a return from the second running commentary function to the first running commentary function (para 0064); and a running commentary continuing function for causing the continuation of the play-by-play or commentary by the first running commentary function which was interrupted by the running commentary interrupting function, when the running commentary returning function has been executed (para 0033-0036).

Hiroshi is silent on clearly disclosing the interruption function of the commentary, however Hiroshi does explain the condition change during the game play which can be considered as a commentary interruption and therefore it would have been obvious to ordinary skilled artisan to include an interruption commentary if the game is being interrupted and then get back to the normal commentary of the game just as a live broadcast of a game.

Regarding claim 2, Hiroshi teaches a first terminology selecting function for selecting the running commentary terminology stored in the terminology storing function (para 0005);

a first selected terminology storing function for storing the running commentary terminology selected by the first terminology selecting function (para 0015);

a first audio output function for converting to sound and outputting the running commentary terminology stored in the first selected terminology storing function (0015);
and a first transmission function for transmitting the running commentary terminology from the first selected terminology storing function to the first audio output function (para 0021).

Regarding claim 3, Hiroshi teaches the running commentary continuing function causes the continuation of the play-by-play or commentary of the first running commentary function, based on the running commentary terminology stored in the first selected terminology storing function of the first running commentary function (para 0037 and 0063).

The claims limitations of claims 4-7 seem to be similar to the claims limitations that are addressed by the examiner above. Even though claims 4-7 are objected to, they are also rejected at least for the reasons cited above by the examiner.

Applicant is respectfully advised to review the entire prior art of record very closely to better recite the claim language and distinguish the invention over prior art of record as supported by the disclosure.
